

Ethical, Credible Senate Leaders

Beth Smith, Grossmont College

John Freitas, Los Angeles City College

Academic Senate for California Community Colleges

Faculty Leadership Institute

June 15, 2013, Sacramento, CA

Introductions

What brings you to this breakout?

What do you hope to learn?

Ethics definition

(from Dictionary.com)

eth·ics [eth-iks]

plural noun

1. (used with a singular or plural verb) a system of moral principles: the ethics of a culture.
2. the rules of conduct recognized in respect to a particular class of human actions or a particular group, culture, etc.: medical ethics; Christian ethics.
3. moral principles, as of an individual: His ethics forbade betrayal of a confidence.
4. (usually used with a singular verb) that branch of philosophy dealing with values relating to human conduct, with respect to the rightness and wrongness of certain actions and to the goodness and badness of the motives and ends of such actions.

The Senate and Ethical Leadership

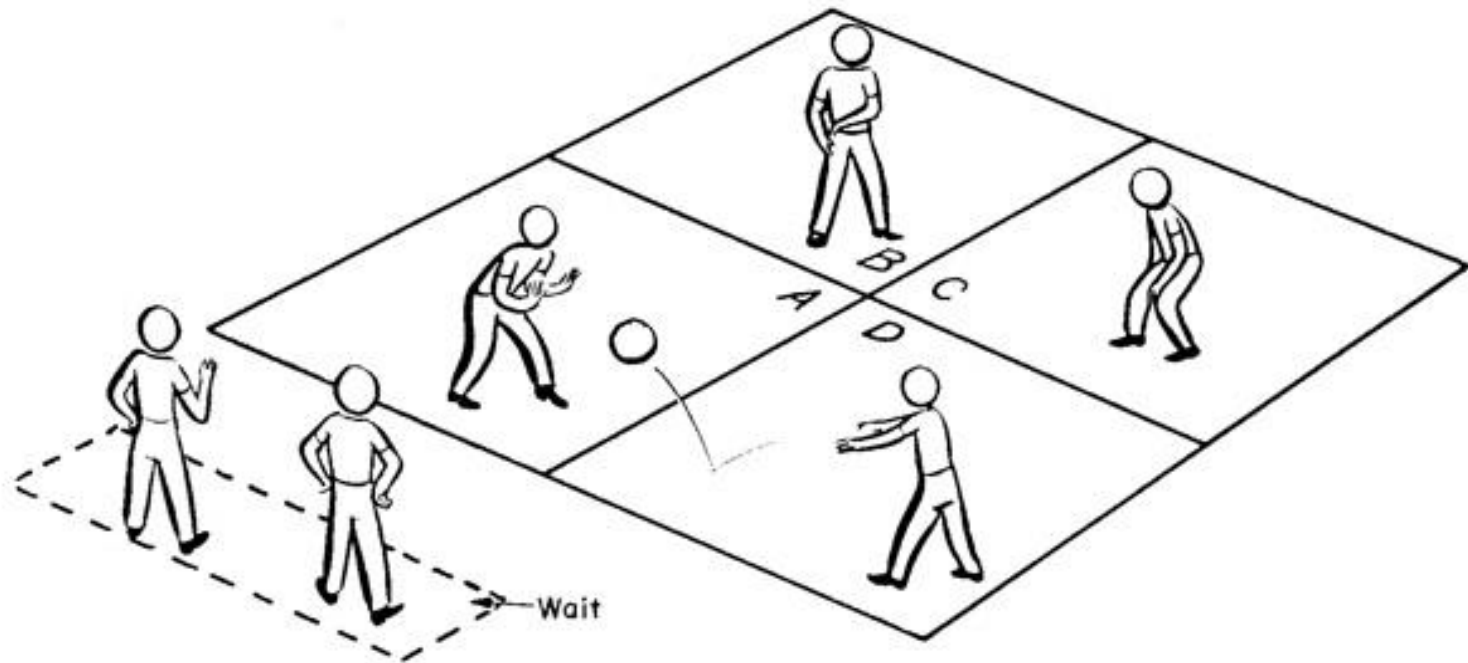

- Resolutions 19.08 (F98) and 13.02 (S04) approved by the body
- Senate papers on faculty ethics, including 2002 paper Faculty as Professionals: Responsibilities, Standards and Ethics
- Senate Executive Committee Policy 10.00 (Code of Ethics for the Executive Committee)

TED Talk: Everyday Leadership (Drew Dudley)

To view the video, please copy and paste the following link to your browser:

http://www.ted.com/talks/drew_dudley_everyday_leadership.html

Values Clarification and Ethical Leadership: Four Square Activity

Ethical Leadership: Share Your Thoughts and Experiences

- What are the principles of ethical leadership?
- What ethical dilemmas have you faced and how were they resolved?
- What can you do to promote ethical leadership at your college?

Excerpt from Ethical Leadership

(Desmond Berghofer, The Institute for Ethical Leadership)

Ethical leaders are strong, generous, full-hearted, trustworthy, resolute and utterly reliable.

They will not be without error or fault, but they will be honest in the admission of their fault when they have searched in their soul and seen it.

They will not seek to dominate, except when they see the core principles of right action are in danger.

They will encourage others to come forward when it is their turn to lead.

They will seek to guide rather than to direct.

Their greatest achievements are made when the people move forward on their own.

Encouragement!

You will make mistakes, but don't be afraid to acknowledge them. Don't expect to be perfect, but strive to be your best!

Here are some resources you might find useful:

The Institute for Ethical Leadership:

<http://www.ethicalleadership.com/index.html>

MindTools:

http://www.mindtools.com/pages/article/newLDR_58.htm

The Academic Senate for California Community Colleges:

<http://asccc.org/publications/academic-senate-papers>

(Papers published in 1988, 1994 and 2002)

American Association of University Professors:

<http://www.aaup.org/issues/professional-ethics>

Questions?

Thank You!