

PART-TIME FACULTY INSTITUTE

February 21-23, 2019

NEWPORT BEACH MARRIOTT HOTEL

2019 PART-TIME FACULTY INSTITUTE

Welcome

Despite being essential to every community college in California, part-time faculty are often forgotten when developing valuable professional development opportunities. Several years ago, the Academic Senate for California Community College (ASCCC) formed a Part-Time Faculty Task Force to look at ways that ASCCC could better serve the needs of our colleagues in the part-time faculty ranks. Since that time, we have formed a Part-Time faculty committee, changed the Hayward Award to recognize both full and part-time faculty members, increased our number of Academic Senate Foundation scholarships to part-time faculty to attend ASCCC institutes and plenary sessions, and collaborated with the California Community Colleges Success Network (3CSN) to create the Part-Time Faculty Institute that is a free professional development institute specifically designed to address the needs of part-time faculty.

This year's ASCCC Part-Time Faculty Committee constructed the program for the third iteration of this institute to serve the needs of part-time faculty that have chosen to become a part-time faculty member with the hopes of obtaining a full-time position, those that have chosen to create a career as a part-time faculty member, and those that have another career outside of teaching but have chosen to teach to share their knowledge and experience with students. The committee, which includes four part-time faculty members from across the state, constructed the program to include information about the full-time hiring process, learning to navigate the campus environment and becoming comfortable at a new college, becoming involved in college governance, and the differences between unions and academic senates. The institute also includes sessions where experienced individuals will be available to review your CV and provide suggestions on possible changes that might help those planning to apply for a full-time position this spring. We hope that you will find the sessions helpful and welcome your feedback on how to improve this institute in the future.

Planning and presenting an institute like this takes the work of many individuals. First, I would like to thank 3CSN for partnering with ASCCC to create this institute, present so many amazing sessions, and to help make it possible for the attendees to be here free of charge. Next, thank you to the ASCCC staff for pulling all of this together. There is no way that this institute could happen without the many hours that all of you have spent working behind the scenes to make everything run so smoothly. Finally, a special thank you to this year's ASCCC Part-Time Faculty Committee. I could not imagine working with a more amazing group of individuals that are so dedicated to serving the needs of our colleges. Your efforts this year have been amazing.

Whether this is your first time attending this institute or if you have been to one in the past, we hope that you will find the presentations useful and that they provide some valuable information that will enhance your career. Please enjoy the next few days here in Newport Beach.

From Job Announcement to Interview—Overview of Resources, Applications, and the Hiring Process

Beth Au, Directory, CCC Registry

Shannon O'Connor-Escudero, District Director, HR, Coast Community College District

Craig Rutan, ASCCC Secretary and Part-Time Committee Chair

Many part-time faculty are hoping to obtain a full-time position, but it can be challenging to successfully navigate the hiring process. This session will provide insights into the full-time faculty hiring process and how it differs from the hiring process for part-time faculty. This session will include perspectives from the Community College Registry, human resources professionals, and faculty that have experienced the hiring process on both sides.

What is your “Why”?

Donna Cooper, 3CSN

Crystal Kiekel, 3CSN

Rebecca Moon-Stone, 3CSN

Joanna Zimring-Towne, 3CSN

Part-time educators in the California Community College system have many unique demands on their time and energy. Through it all, we can sometimes lose touch with what brought us to this work in the first place—our personal “why.” In this interactive general session, participants will reflect on their personal why and learn ways to use it to better engage with and motivate students in our classrooms, as well as to more effectively collaborate with colleagues. Why statements can be shared on syllabi, job applications, and during job interviews. This session will also provide a brief overview to the California Community College Success Network (3CSN), the practitioner-led leadership role it plays throughout the 114-college system, and the ways it helps educators get more involved on their campuses and within a larger network of community college educators.

Relationships with Faculty, Staff, and Administrators

Salon 1 (Lobby Level)

Andrew Delunas, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Gavilan College

David Morse, Long Beach City College

Martin Stringer, Santiago Canyon College

Relationships are important in every profession, and they can influence the career of part-time faculty in many ways. Interactions with colleagues, staff, and supervisors can have both positive and negative impacts on a part-time faculty member's assignment, re-hire possibilities, references, applications for full-time positions, and other workplace opportunities. This session will outline ways to keep relationships positive, behaviors to avoid, and suggestions for dealing with difficult workplace situations.

Unique Challenges and Opportunities for Part Time Faculty of Color

Salon 2 (Lobby Level)

Silvester Henderson, ASCCC Representative At Large

Don Hopkins, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Folsom Lake College

Through this session, we will explore effective sharing and participate in dialogue regarding how to use unique cultural perspectives as a way to create, expand, and change the narrative for diverse faculty professionals. Are faculty of color the only academic professionals who are marginalized? Current information/data will be shared. Should faculty of color contribute to "Ethno-relativist" curricular structures for creating a space of cultural sensitivity and growth? Should part-time faculty of color engage in campus culturally centered academic programs for the enhancement of equity, and diversity? Will such efforts secure continued academic assignments? Please come share your ideas as we collectively explore everyday wisdom to positively improve our work and turn challenges into triumphs.

OER, Low Cost Materials, and Trying to Adopt New Course Materials as a Part Timer

Avalon (Lobby Level)

Janelle Barbier, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Skyline College

Dolores Davison, ASCCC Vice President

Michelle Pilati, Rio Hondo College

Many colleges are exploring the expanded use of Open Educational Resources (OER) and other lower cost materials to reduce costs for students and increase access to instructional materials, especially for financially disadvantaged students. At some colleges, part-time faculty may encounter resistance when attempting to adopt OER for the first time. Come to this session to learn about OER and how you can explore its use for your classes and learn about the initiatives around OER being worked on around the state.

Academic Freedom Isn't Just for Full-Time Faculty

Emerald Cove (3rd Level)

Wendy Brill-Wynkoop, College of the Canyons

Craig Rutan, ASCCC Secretary and Part-Time Committee Chair

Every college is required to have an adopted policy on academic freedom, but do you really feel like it applies to you? Academic freedom policies apply to all faculty, but many part-time faculty may wonder what could happen if they were ever to exercise their academic freedom. Please join us for a discussion about what academic freedom is, how it protects all faculty, and what to do if your academic freedom rights have been violated.

Mainstreaming Adjunct Instructors in Professional Learning— Setting the Stage for Change

Diamond Cove (3rd Level)

Rachel Ketai, El Camino College, 3CSN

Lars Kjeseth, El Camino College, 3CSN

Art Martinez, El Camino College, 3CSN

Deep and trusting relationships among all instructors, learning assistants, and counselors is a critical component of positive change, whether that change is in response to AB 705, Guided Pathways, or the next new idea to come our way. At El Camino College, the Scholarly Inquiry for Teacher Excellence (SITE) program seeks to focus professional learning on building meaningful and lasting relationships around the scholarship of teaching, learning, and counseling so that in the long run, the college is better prepared for change. One goal of SITE is to make it possible for all adjuncts to participate fully. Together, we will experience a sample of how SITE approaches professional learning; learn about the ways SITE is working for adjunct instructors and counselors; and dream about how we can make SITE work even better for adjunct instructors and counselors.

10+1 Governance and Union Issues: Similarities and Differences

Wendy Brill-Wynkoop, College of the Canyons

Dolores Davison, ASCCC Vice President

Katherine Schaefer, ASCCC Part Time Committee, Foothill College

Craig Rutan, ASCCC Secretary and Part-Time Committee Chair

Title 5 Regulations grant academic senates the right to be the primary voice in college decision-making with regard to academic and professional matters, while unions address wages and working conditions. This session will examine the purview of academic senates compared to that of unions, as well as the areas that overlap. Come and learn how these two important bodies work for faculty.

SECOND BREAKOUT SESSION

2:15 pm to 3:30 pm

Navigating College Culture

Salon 1 (Lobby Level)

Silvester Henderson, ASCCC Representative At Large

Don Hopkins, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Folsom Lake College

Have you ever started at a college and heard “that isn’t how we do things here”? Each college has its own unique culture and part-time faculty will need to learn to adapt to that culture in order to be successful. How can you get a sense of the way things are done at a new campus, adapt to that environment, and become a valuable member of the college community? This session will examine aspects of local college cultures including governance and ways part-time faculty can navigate them and thrive.

The Full Time Interview Process—What to Expect Each Step of the Way

Salon 2 (Lobby Level)

Sam Foster, ASCCC Area D Representative

David Morse, Long Beach City College

This follow up session to Thursday's General Session will describe the hiring process from beginning to end. The presenters will offer important information that potential interviewees need to know, as well as guidance and tips on completing an application, preparing to interview, and what one should or should not do during an interview session.

The Value of an Academic Title

Avalon (Lobby Level)

Janelle Barbier, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Skyline College

Craig Rutan, ASCCC Secretary and Part-Time Committee Chair

Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor are common titles for full-time faculty, but part-time faculty are rarely given this type of recognition. Part-time faculty are often called adjunct or contingent, implying that they are temporary or not as important to the college. This session will discuss how developing academic titles for part-time faculty can make them feel like they are an important part of the campus culture and that they are a valued member of the campus community.

10+1 and Union Relations

Diamond Cove (3rd Level)

Wendy Brill-Wynkoop, College of the Canyons

Dolores Davison, ASCCC Vice President

Katherine Schaefers, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Foothill College

This is a follow up session to Friday's General Session. Presenters will be available to engage attendees in further discussion of academic senate purview and governance roles as compared to union responsibilities.

Finding the Right Fit

Emerald Cove (3rd Level)

Vanson Nguyen, College of Alameda, 3CSN

Finding the right fit is important. Come discuss the process from application to interview, as both components of the process can feel different. Dr. Nguyen is a math department chair who will share some specific strategies and best practices from his experience interviewing and working with faculty.

THIRD BREAKOUT SESSION

3:45 pm to 5:00 pm

The Art of Diplomacy

Salon 1 (Lobby Level)

Andrew Delunas, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Gavilan College

Silvester Henderson, ASCCC Representative at Large

As leaders, we frequently find ourselves in critical and challenging conversations. Although we may appreciate the importance of having rigorous, balanced, and effective conversations about difficult subjects, it is also important to recognize that defensive tendencies and strong emotions can hinder such conversations, affecting not only the integrity of the decision-making process but also the health of the relationship. Navigating these types of conversations is difficult and frequently requires a specific skill set. Come to this breakout to learn strategies for how to engage in critical conversations with confidence.

Starting at a New College?—How to Find Out Important Information No One Ever Tells You

Salon 2 (Lobby Level)

Sam Foster, ASCCC Area D Representative

Janelle Barbier, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Skyline College

Sometimes an initial teaching assignment at a college begins with little more than the keys and a course outline (and there are times when you don't even get those). How do you make copies? What do you do if there is an emergency? Are you free to teach the content any way that you like? Join us as we discuss how to find the answers you need, how to network inside and outside your department, and the many ways to move forward in your career as a part-time faculty member.

Impact of AB 705 and Guided Pathways on Part-Time Faculty

Avalon (Lobby Level)

Michelle Pilati, Rio Hondo College

Craig Rutan, ASCCC Secretary and Part-Time Committee Chair

The local implementation of AB 705 (Irwin, 2017) and Guided Pathways will have far reaching impacts for all classroom faculty, but most of the implementation is driven by full-time faculty. How will this work impact part-time faculty? How can part-time faculty become engaged in the planning and not just be responsible for implementing everything once the decisions have been made. Please join us to learn everything you need to know about AB 705 and Guided Pathways and to discuss how to become more engaged in these efforts locally.

Equitizing Your Syllabi and Other Key Teaching Documents.

Diamond Cove (3rd Level)

Jordan Giannoni Harless, San Joaquin Delta College, 3CSN

In order to best serve our students, our course materials should be accessible and equitable, but how do we know if they are accessible and equitable? In this session, participants will work together to build an equity rubric that can be referenced while creating, or revamping, syllabi and other important materials. We will examine our “expert blind spots,” uncover ways to reduce deficit-minded language, and brainstorm strategies for making our teaching documents more approachable to students.

Understanding and Responding to Student Resistance to Learning

Emerald Cove (3rd Level)

Jan Connal, Cerritos College (Emeritus), 3CSN

As professionals, we seek to create effective learning experiences for our students. However, we’ve all experienced situations wherein students seem to “resist” the learning experiences we’ve designed. If you’ve found yourself frustrated and wondering “what’s going on here?” then this session is for you! Resistance to learning is indeed a perplexing and often misunderstood phenomenon. This session is not about blaming students but rather an initial examination into the factors that shape, for good or ill, the intensity of student resistance. Understanding the interplay between these external and internal factors provides insight for designing and implementing constructive responses. We’ll conclude the session by generating and exchanging ideas for reducing resistance and creating conditions conducive to effective

The Maximized Professor—Designing a Career for Job Security as a Curricular Expert and Scholar

Salon 1 (Lobby Level)

Sam Foster, ASCCC Area D Representative

Silvester Henderson, ASCCC Representative at Large

Each of us as professors capacitate a certain amount of discipline expertise. This breakout will examine innovative ways to leverage that special skill to maximize employment opportunities and job security. Topics will include the following: setting and assessing personal career goals; identifying professional development opportunities; employing career marketing strategies; and utilizing your unique talents to originate innovative teaching opportunities. Please come and explore instructional and inventive ways to benefit your students, and your college.

Building Professional Confidence

Salon 2 (Lobby Level)

Dolores Davison, ASCCC Vice President

Don Hopkins, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Folsom Lake College

Confidence is an essential quality for all faculty members, whether they are just beginning their career, or they have spent many years working with students. This session will examine ways to cultivate professional confidence and how it can improve your teaching and your interactions with your colleagues on campus.

SLOs, Curriculum, and Other Things that Shape Your Classroom

Avalon (Lobby Level)

Janelle Barbier, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Skyline College

Craig Rutan, ASCCC Secretary and Part-Time Committee Chair

Students depend on colleges to provide the courses they need to help them meet all of their educational goals, including obtaining degrees and certificates or transferring to a four-year university. The information contained in the Course Outline of Record, including the Student Learning Outcomes, are the basis for intersegmental articulation agreements and establish what faculty are required to cover during their courses. Please join us for a discussion about course outlines, SLOs, and how they directly impact the teaching of part-time faculty.

Professional Development Opportunities for Part-Time Faculty

Diamond Cove (3rd Level)

Andrew Delunas, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Skyline College

Katherine Schaefers, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Foothill College

Professional development is essential for all faculty to improve their teaching and to gain knowledge that will be vital for becoming a more complete faculty member. What professional development opportunities exist for part-time faculty and how can part-time faculty gain access to professional development resources at their college? Please join us for a lively discussion about how to become more engaged with professional development.

Growing Classroom Culture where Equity Lives

Emerald Cove (3rd Level)

Marina Broeder, Mission College, 3CSN

Alla Petrosyan, Mission College, 3CSN

The presenters will facilitate a discussion on effective ways to connect to students, build trust, and create an inclusive classroom conducive to tackling difficult topics such as race and discrimination. Through the practice of norm-setting, reading equity-based texts, sharing resources, and role-playing scenarios, the participants will develop tools that foster greater agency among students.

Marisa Alviar-Agnew, Sacramento City College, 3CSN

Riad Bahhur, Sacramento City College, 3CSN

Dawna DeMartini, Sacramento City College, 3CSN

Sherri Patton, Sacramento City College, 3CSN

This interactive session will showcase equity-minded, high-impact teaching practices designed by members of Sacramento City College's Teachers for Equity program. Examples will include assignments and assessment practices used in history, chemistry, and English. Participants will have the opportunity to get feedback on one of their own practices and redesign it according to equity-minded principles.

Becoming Engaged with Your Local Senate and ASCCC

Newport Coast Ballroom

Craig Rutan, ASCCC Secretary and Part-Time Committee Chair, Facilitator

Janelle Barbier, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Skyline College

Andrew Delunas, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Gavilan College

Don Hopkins, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Folsom Lake College

Katherine Schaeffers, ASCCC Part-Time Committee, Foothill College

Many part-time faculty hold positions at more than one institution or workplace, which can make engaging in college activities such as college governance a difficult task. Yet, engagement at the campus and statewide level provides valuable insight into the workings of the college and the community college system. How can part-time faculty become involved locally and become engaged with statewide work? Members of the ASCCC Part-Time Committee will share their experiences with local and statewide committee work and their perspectives on how it has impacted their work as a part-time faculty member.

Academic Senate for California Community Colleges

Mission Statement

The Academic Senate for California Community Colleges fosters the effective participation by community college faculty in all statewide and local academic and professional matters; develops, promotes, and acts upon policies responding to statewide concerns; and serves as the official voice of the faculty of California community colleges in academic and professional matters. The Academic Senate strengthens and supports the local senates of all California community colleges.

Value Statement

Leadership

The Academic Senate champions the leadership role of faculty at their colleges and at the state level and fosters effective faculty participation in governance to effect change. The Academic Senate facilitates and supports the development of faculty leaders. The Senate is respectful and reflective in its work and relationships and expects accountability from its leaders. In all its activities, the Academic Senate adheres to the highest professional ethics and standards. The Senate models effective leadership and promotes the inclusion of leaders from various backgrounds and experiences in order to represent all faculty.

Empowerment

The Academic Senate empowers faculty through its publications, resources, activities, policies, and presentations. The Senate collaborates with other state-wide organizations, and with administrators, trustees, students, and others, to develop and maintain effective relationships. The Senate believes that collaboration with others and faculty engagement improve professional decisions made locally and at the state level. The Academic Senate works to empower faculty from diverse backgrounds and experiences in order to promote inclusiveness and equity in all of their forms.

Voice

The Academic Senate promotes faculty primacy in academic and professional matters as established in statute and regulation. The Senate is the official voice of the California community college faculty in statewide consultation and decision making and, through leadership and empowerment, endeavors to make each local senate the voice of the faculty in college and district consultation and decision making. The Senate values thoughtful discourse and deliberation that incorporates diverse perspectives as a means of reaching reasoned and beneficial results.

USEFUL INFORMATION

Badge Identification

Name badges must be worn during the conference, as they are your ticket for entrance to conference sessions and social events. So that you can readily recognize conference attendees, delegates will have blue ribbons on their badges, and Executive Committee members will have purple ribbons.

Special Diets

If you are vegetarian or require a special diet, these meal preferences will be notated by a large colored sticker on the back of your name badge. Vegetarians have a GREEN sticker. Vegans have a BLUE sticker. All other special needs have a YELLOW sticker. Please alert the banquet staff of the type of meal you have and show him/her your sticker. Notify Senate staff at the registration desk if you do not have a special meal sticker and require one.

Parking

Attendees will receive complimentary parking per day with in and out privileges at the Newport Beach Marriott Hotel & Spa. For day drivers, please notify AS-CCC Staff at the registration desk and we will provide you instructions on what to do when departing the hotel. Attendees staying at the hotel, please advise the Front Desk upon check-in that you are overnight self-parking to receive validation that will give you the complimentary parking privileges for the entire stay.

WiFi

Attendees will be provided complimentary internet access throughout the hotel meeting space and in sleeping rooms allowing access for text, email and web browsing services.

Smoking

Smoking is not permitted at any convention sessions or meal functions.

Area Restaurants

Please consult the brochures in your room or request restaurant information at the hotel registration desk.
